

Dee Likes

Kansas State University
Animal Sciences & Industry
Distinguished Alumnus Award 2006

Dee Likes graduated “magna cum laude” from Kansas State University in 1972 with a B.S. degree in Animal Science, after he served a tour of duty in the United States Nav. Following graduation, he was a market analyst for Cattle-Fax and, in 1976, joined the staff of the Kansas Livestock Association. In 1984, he was named Executive Vice President and CEO. KLA is one of the largest and most influential affiliates of the NCBA. Dee is a strong advocate of the livestock and meat industries in Kansas, and is a loyal supporter and fan of K-State. Dee and his wife, Terry, reside in Topeka, and have four children and five grandchildren.