2009 Stockman of the Year Honoree
Warren Weibert and wife, Carol

Lon Floyd, KSU Athletics, auctions the number one copy of “Building the Legacy – A History of the Kansas State University Department of Animal Sciences and Industry”
A good crowd was on hand at the Cattlemen’s Day trade show.

Miles McKee was on hand to sign copies of the ASI History “Building the Legacy.”

Featured speakers Nevil Speer and Rosemary Mucklow addressed audiences in both Weber 123 and on the floor of the trade show in Weber Arena.
It was standing room only at the Legacy Bull and Female Sale.

Livestock Sales Management students prepared cattle for the sale.

Ryan Breiner, Purebred Unit Manager, watched intently as bids were taken.

(Photos courtesy of Darla Thomas)
Food Science Graduate Students participate at the K-State Research Forum
(L-R) Jasdeep Saini, Tyler Axelman, Nigel Harper, Kirsten Veith