Kansas State University
Animal Sciences & Industry
Don & Jane Good Outstanding Senior 2014

While an undergraduate student at Kansas State University, Tyler was a member of the 2012 Meats Judging Team, 2013 Meat Animal Evaluation Team and in 2014 he represented Kansas State University as a member of the Academic Quadrathlon Team at the National Cattlemen's Beef Association meetings and at the American Society of Animal Science Midwest Section meetings.

Tyler was also active in numerous organizations including Farm House Fraternity, Collegiate Cattlemen, Junior National Hereford Association, and Christian Challenge Student Ministry

Tyler's interest in international travel led him to participate in a faculty-led agriculture tour to Brazil in 2012, the World Hereford Conference in Canada also in 2012, and another faculty-led agriculture tour to England and Scotland in 2014.

While a student at K-State, Tyler continued to be active with the family farming and ranching responsibilities while he was also growing his own herd of registered Polled Herefords. In addition to his work commitments, Tyler was active in philanthropic endeavors through his fraternity and church. He also volunteered with a local veterinarian back home to provide an annual free clinic for pet vaccinations.

Tyler received multiple academic and leadership scholarships throughout his undergraduate career, the most prestigious of which included the 2013 Roy A. Wallace Scholarship through the Beef Improvement Federation, the 2013-2014 Henry C. Gardiner Scholarship, and the EE Ranches Scholarship through the Hereford Youth Foundation of America.

Following graduation, Tyler plans to return to the family farm and ranch, Sandhill Farms, where he will make the 7th generation in his family to live and work there.
